News from Bingham Springs this morning was received to the effect that the auto stage had arrived and hereafter would meet all trains at Gibbon. Also word was received that the dance hall, which has been improved, will be opened tonight.

Kill Big Rat.

Weston Lady Very Ill.
Mrs. S. G. Price of Weston is in a dying condition at the St. Anthony hospital with kidney trouble and asthma. She was brought here some time ago and was very low at that time. The doctors hold out no hope for her.

Good Roads Delegates.
Mayor Matlock this morning received a request from Governor West to appoint two delegates from Pendleton to attend the good roads meeting in Medford. He has been trying to find some one who can go all day but has not yet succeeded.

Commissioner Strobe Ill.
V. Strobe, well known local merchant and member of the water commission, is taking a rest at Bingham Springs in the hopes of recovering from the nervous ailment which has been troubling him for several months.

Returns With Car.
Wesley N. Matlock yesterday arrived home from Waco with his automobile in which he and a party of local men had a narrow escape several weeks ago. As a souvenir of his escape he has a cap, the top of which was almost eaten out by the acid which was spilled on him in the wreck.

Jumped Into Well.
Though he jumped into a 16-foot well walled with rock, Melvin Stewart, an insane man, was brought to the Eastern Oregon state hospital yesterday in an uninjured condition. He had been living near Alice in Union county and had been acting peculiarly for some time. He was pulled out of the well by neighbors and was unhurt.

Bishop to Japan.
Rev. Charles Quinney, pastor of the Church of the Redeemer, has received word from Baker that the Rt. Rev. R. L. Paddock, Episcopal bishop of eastern Oregon, who has been suffering for the past four months with nervous prostration, has been ordered to make a complete change of climate and environment. He will sail today from Seattle on the steamer "Minnesota" for China and Japan.

Why Not Pull Few Feet Further?
Teamsters and automobile owners who live on the south hill and who are in the habit of driving across the railroad tracks at noon are wondering why it is that No. 17, which arrives at 11:55 and remains about 15 minutes, always manages to come to a stop with the observation car just blocking the street from sidewalk to sidewalk. It is invariably so, they say, and they are forced to wait until the train pulls out before they can pass on. Pedestrians can easily pass around the end but not so vehicles. If the train would pull up 25 feet further, traffic would not be stopped. There may be a reason for the train stopping on that particular spot but they know it not.

Mayor to Mayor Letter.
G. A. Bading, mayor of Milwaukee, in the following letter to W. F. Matlock, mayor of Pendleton, sends thanks to the city for the recent reception given the excursionists of that city:

30 Years of Marriage Enough.
After being married to Hardy McCormack for almost 30 years, Mary Jane McCormack has had enough of him and wants the local court to grant her a divorce. During recent years he has become addicted to liquor, she complains, and has frequently accused her of infidelity and threatened to kill her. In February, 1913, she could endure his treatment no longer and left him. The couple have five children three of whom are adults and plaintiff asks for the custody of the son, Victor. W. M. Peterson is attorney for the plaintiff.

YOUTH CONFESSES HE MEANT TO ROB VICTIM

HILLSBORO, Ore., June 27.—That he shot F. M. Woodcock, a business man of Portland, with the intention of robbing him, was the confession of Earl McCoy, 18, to authorities. Woodcock who is dangerously wounded, was shot in the back from ambush while fishing near here.

Blue Mt. Season to Close.

The season of the Blue Mountain baseball league will close tomorrow with Pendleton playing at Pilot Rock and Weston at Milton. The outcome of the games will not affect the standing of the teams, the Milton-Freewater team having the pennant tucked away and Pendleton having an unchallenged claim to the cellar championship.

Ready to Tax Foreign Income.

PARIS, June 27.—The French government issued regulations under which a tax of 5 per cent is to be collected on incomes received in France from foreign stocks, bonds and securities, including government bonds. The regulations go into force July 1. The law was passed in March. Since then enormous pressure from financial interests has been brought to bear on the government to delay the application of the legislation while various changes have been proposed.

Among the arguments put forward it has been urged that the law would drive out of France thousands of Frenchmen and foreigners resident in France who will prefer to leave the country rather than lose the twentieth part of the income they derive from capital invested abroad. Other thousands, it is asserted, will remain in France and evade the law.

The regulations are intricate and detailed. They require banks to keep a record of all coupons, checks and other instruments of credit used to transfer or collect interest from abroad.

For evasion of the law the extreme penalty is a years imprisonment and there is a series of heavy fines.

Child Bride Asks Decree.

CENTRALIA, Wash., June 27.—The next to the last chapter in the matrimonial troubles of Samuel Shove a Centralia merchant, was written when his 14-year-old bride started action in the Lewis county superior court to have her marriage to him annulled. Shove eloped with Myrtle Robertson, daughter of J. D. Robertson, to Portland, several months ago and, since, there has been one continual round of trouble for him in his efforts to keep his wife over the objections of her parents, who had him arrested on his return from his honeymoon.

Mrs. Shove stood by her husband until a letter was recently read in court from a former wife of Shove in Seattle, who alleged that he married the Robertson girl in less than six months after he had been divorced from her.

Turk Envoy Changes Faith.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Turkey, June 27.—Alfred Rustem Bey de Bulnaki, who has just succeeded to the post of ambassador to the United States, has received widespread commendation in the Turkish newspapers because he recently embraced the Moslem faith. He has Polish blood on his father's side, and his mother was a Miss Sanger of an aristocratic British family which has been in Constantinople for two or three generations. Rustem Bey, upon becoming converted to Mohammedanism, substituted the name Ahmed for Alfred. The sultan received the neophyte with great favor and presented him a jeweled watch and chaplet.

Rustem Bey has recently been a contributor to British magazines on European political topics. He has had a varied diplomatic career, including service at Washington several years ago as counselor of the embassy. During the regime of Abdul Hamid, when the Turkish diplomats away from home found their pay day a hollow dream, Rustem Bey was a strike leader with the slogan "No pay, no work." Although he won the fight, the government punished him by dropping him for a time.

ITALIAN AMUCK WITH HATCHET; BULLET ENDS LIFE

SMITHFIELD, Pa., June 27.—Armed with a hatchet, an unidentified Italian ran amuck, killed a fellow countryman, also unidentified, fatally wounded Martin Hope, 75, and dangerously hacked several other persons. L. V. Morgan cut short the apparently demented foreigner's career with two shots from a revolver, killing him instantly.

Immodest Gowns Taboo.

SEATTLE, June 27.—The general conference of the Church of the Brethren, which has been in session here more than a week, concluded its business and adjourned to meet next year in Hershey, Pa. The only business of importance at the closing session was the adoption of the report of the committee on resolutions. The resolutions condemn the use of tobacco, reaffirm the church's opposition to the use and sale of intoxicating beverages and urge the members to "work against fashionable and immodest apparel."

U. S. Office for Ball Player.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.—Senator Hollis of New Hampshire announced that he had obtained the consent of President Wilson to appoint Fred H. Brown, a former member of the Boston National league baseball team to be district attorney of New Hampshire. Brown was signed by the Boston team when he was a freshman at Dartmouth. After playing professional ball for six years he took a law course and has since then been city solicitor and mayor of Somersworth, N. H.

WALLA WALLA MAN IS LOST IN WOODS; NOTE IS FOUND

MESSAGE IN BOTTLE SAYS HE IS WITHOUT FOOD AND HAS GIVEN UP HOPE.

WALLA WALLA, June 27.—Lost in the heavily timbered section along the north fork of the Clearwater, without food, gun, axe or pack and almost without hope of getting out alive, "June" or John Herman, giving his home as Walla Walla, wrote a note, enclosed it in a bottle and set it afloat in the Clearwater. The message was found and a telegram last evening from A. L. Harper, sheriff at Orofino, Idaho, asked the police to notify his relatives. The Hermans who live in Walla Walla were interviewed but they knew nothing of any relatives who might be in northern Idaho.

The message was signed June Herman but the officers think it may be John Herman, who formerly taught school near Touchet and had a homestead there. He was sent to the asylum at Medical Lake and later released in care of his relatives.

The message from Sheriff Harper is as follows: "A note picked up in a bottle today in the north fork of the Clearwater river near the mouth of the big Weitsu creek signed June Herman of Walla Walla, Washington, stating that he had been lost three days with nothing to eat since the 23rd, had lost his gun, axe and pack and nearly gave up his hopes of getting out alive. The note was dated June 24 and gives his location about 115 degrees 45 minutes west longitude and 46 to 8 north latitude, asks that his folks be notified. Please notify folks and advise."

"The country in which Herman is is very wild," said Chief of Police Andre last night. Chief Andre years ago was with a rescue party that made a rescue party that made a trip into this section in the dead of winter and he is familiar with the ground.

Charles Mullen Price Heavy.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 27.—Although refusing to give the price of the sale of Manager Charles Mullen to the New York Americans, President H. L. Jones said that it was the highest ever paid by a major league club for an infielder from the western league.

MALCOLM GIFFORD, JR., TO FACE CHARGE OF MURDER

Malcolm Gifford, Jr.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 27.—While circumstantial evidence forcibly indicates that Malcolm Gifford, Jr., of Hudson, N. Y., is the slayer of Frank J. Clute, a chauffeur, of Albany, who was murdered on the night of April 1, 1913, every known circumstance of his life, associations and conduct before and since the murder makes ridiculous any suggestion of his connection with the crime. Gifford is looked in the county jail here, waiting to be tried for his life. He has maintained from the time of his arrest that he is innocent. Malcolm, who is the son of Malcolm Gifford, Sr., a wealthy machinery manufacturer of Hudson, is not twenty years of age. He was a student of an exclusive "prep" school at Williston, Mass., shortly before the time of his arrest. Since having been confined in the jail, he has developed tuberculosis, according to Dr. C. L. Bailey, the family physician. The only time the youth showed signs of emotion was when his mother visited him at the detention house.
